

The David Palubeski Bursary

Description

In recognition of David's contribution to Canadian planning, The David Palubeski Bursary was created by his family, colleagues, and friends. The bursary celebrates David's contribution to Canadian planning practice and CIP. It will support Canadian planning students who are CIP members and registered in a recognised planning program. The award will be offered annually, alternating each year to support a student entering the fourth year of an undergraduate program and a graduate student entering the second year of the program. The first award will be offered to an undergraduate student.

Amount

TBD

Eligibility

Eligible students will demonstrate the following requirements:

- Financial assistance required to support their education, as evidenced by government student loans documents or equivalent justification;
- Principal focus of studies on small and medium sized communities;
- Demonstrated interest in community planning, community/urban design, and/or sustainable land development.

Criteria

Each applicant will provide a statement of interest (800 words maximum) that addresses the preceding, and describes how their proposed year of study will contribute to a better understanding of planning in Canada.

Each applicant will provide two letters of support, one from a faculty member in the student's current program and one from a

Registered Professional Planner, who is practicing in either a local government office or a consulting firm. The supporting letters will describe how the applicant is known to the letter writer and why the applicant is worthy of the bursary.

Jury

A selection jury will be appointed by the CIP Planning Student Trust Fund (PSTF) and composed of three members, who serve for two-year terms. The jury will strive to be comprised of one CIP Fellow, the current student representative to the CIP Board, and one member of the Manitoba Professional Planners Institute.

Deadline

The submission deadline date can be found on the CIP website.

About David Palubeski

David was a tireless advocate for the planning profession locally, nationally, and internationally and his stature made him a sought-out industry leader relied upon for his wisdom and dedication. He served in prominent positions as President of both the Manitoba Professional Planners Institute (1997-98) and the Canadian Institute of Planners (2001-03). He was elected as a Fellow of the Canadian Institute of Planners in 2006.

David was best known as the President of Lombard North Group (1984) Ltd., an award-winning planning, landscape architecture, and project management firm based in Winnipeg. Some of his firm's many project highlights included The Forks National Historic Park Master Plan, the Royal Canadian Mint Site Master Plan and Detailed Design (Winnipeg), the St. Adolphe East Dike Secondary Plan, the Selkirk Downtown Waterfront Revitalization Strategy, and the Brandon Assiniboine River Corridor Vitalization Master Plan.
